Shareholders to Receive Royalty and/or Dividend Payments

(Las Vegas, Nevada, April 19, 2016)

Gold and Silver Mining of Nevada, Inc. ("CJTF") ("the Company"), (PINK SHEETS:CJTF) a junior mining company in Nevada, announces the plans for shareholders from positive cash flow from mining operations that have recently commenced and which were announced in recent press releases.

The company projects that the current production operations will move into positive cash flow to the company. Because our contract operator will reimburse themselves for their costs there will be a distribution after costs to the shareholders. The company's portion of this money will be mostly (Up to 90%) distributed to shareholders either by dividend or by royalty income sharing.

As the company moves forward and continues to expand this operation the revenues will continue to grow until the mill is at full capacity and the company portion of revenues should grow to $10 to $12 million per year.

Basically the company is projected to morph into a Royalty company and the company does not intend to plow profits back into further exploration and asset development. Therefor once the company moves into positive cash flow it estimates that it will continue to stay in positive cash flow as long as the mining operations continue at this site which based on what is known at this time are estimated to be for another 50 years.
